GREEN STALL EASY A WIN WIN SOLUTION

Green Stall Easy is designed to promote both animal welfare and the farmers' earnings.

In recent years, there have been made many studies in order to define the optimum rest position of the cows in the stable. In these reports, researchers have been looking at the form and dimensions of the cubicles, which all have been conceived in the traditional boxes.

Cow-Welfare has opposed this idea. We went out into the field and has taken basis on the animal's normal lying position. Therefore the idea of flexible cubicles came up for some years ago.

Since the introduction of the first Green Stall at the end of 2007, it has gone very fast. From the first shows around the world in 2008, where Cow-Welfare has won several prizes for best new product, until today where patents have been published in more or less all countries where cows are milked.

GREEN STALL EASY

Green Stall Easy is known for its green colour and for the animals always lying correct in the boxes, without getting any marks or damages. Green Stall Easy is today known to increase farmer's income, for the cows living longer and never get marks or damages. Frequently the farmers are telling that if the animal gets marks or injuries in a traditional barn, and then getting into a barn with Green Stall Easy, the animal normally recovers again, something that rarely happens in a normal barn.

UNIQUE PRODUCT WITH LONG TERM WARRANTY

Cow-Welfare is the only company offering Green Stall Easy to a farmer who builds a new barn. It is a proven product with a long-term guarantee which the animal never will get hurt in. The animal lives longer and the lying comfort enhances drastically compared to conventional cubicles. Any intention to build a new barn without using Green Stall Easy should be past, once you've seen what Green Stall Easy does for the farmer and the animal.

- The cleaning time of cubicles has been decreased dramatically
- Cost for bedding has been reduced intense
- Better oestrus, as the cows are in better health

THEREFORE... GREEN STALL EASY

The road to better animal welfare in the barn is both simple and flexible.

HOW GREEN STALL EASY WORKS

The lower flexible plastic tube is guiding the cow when its lying down. At the same time the inclined angle of the plastic tube is giving the cow plenty of space for the head, and is helping the cow in the back to get down in the right position, so the lying position will not be askew as in traditional cubicles.

The upper right plastic tube is helping to guide the cow when it goes up and down from the cubicle, and it also prevents the cow from turning in the cubicle.

The neck rail is - just like all other parts from Green Stall Easy - made of a soft plastic material, which is a pleasant flexible solution for the cow. Cows which are new in the herd, or cows which are otherwise trying to escape through the cubicle, will not break their back or suffer other serious injuries which you may see in the traditional cubicles, owing to the soft and flexible plastic.

FLEXIBILITY AND SIMPLE INSTALLATION

Green Stall Easy is simple to install and the settings for the flexible system is easy to change. The unique design of the system makes it equally suitable for both calves and cows as for small and large breeds. If you eg. after a few months wishes to change the position of the cow, both the vertical plastic pipe and the neck rail can be adjusted to the requirements of the cow. This means that the farmers always are able to adjust Green Stall Easy, so the cow will get optimal conditions - for the benefit of both the farmer and cow.

FACTS ABOUT FLEXIBLE GREEN FEEDING

The system gives freedom back to the cow, as if it were out on the field. The cow consumes more food at the feeding table, when it is feeling the same freedom as in the field. Note how high the cow lifts its head to let the feed glide down the throat and further down into the stomach. The cow is able to reach further out on the feeding table for consuming the food, because the head locks are following. The cow stays longer at the feeding table and there would be no pressure from other animals in the herd.

The system can also be installed with flexible front pipes.

The flexibility minimizes injuries, wounds and abscesses.

LATEX SOFT MATTRESSES

Special designed mattresses provides optimal welfare for your animals.

The development of our mattress solution took place with a company which is manufacturing mattresses for hospitals. We have measured the size and weight of the animal's hoof, and size and weight of the animal's stomach, and developed and customized the mattress to the animal, with a view to make it as optimally as possible for the animal and the farmer.

Cow-Welfare is offering mattresses which keeps the height and is suitable for the animal, also if the animal always goes down on its knees first or is standing at the same place for many years.

AN UNCOMPROMISING PRODUCT

Latex Soft is available with 2 different topcovers, and standard is a round off, incline rear end, which ensures an ergonomic cleaning and is easier to clean if the animal is manuring in the rear end of the mattress.

POLY BRISKET PILLOW

As an option we offer the ergonomic Poly Brisket pillow. The Poly Brisket pillow improves the animal's position in the cubicle, and is also used as bedding reduction.
