KÆRE MEDLEM

Siden sidst har vi fået afholdt The Gathering rundt omkring i landet, og herfra skal lyde en stor tak til alle der deltog. Festival programmet er udsendt, og er nu til salg på smws.dk – vi glæder os som altid til at feste med alle deltagerne i uge 5.

Foran dig sidder du med det nyeste Outturn, der denne gang dækker oktober og november. Oktober måneds tema er "Pips choices", og apropos Pip, så har han netop udgivet sin seneste bog "A founders tale". Den kan du blandt andet læse en anmeldelse af fra en af vore ambassadører inde i bladet. Vi har bogen med ud på de kommende Casual Days, såfremt du kunne være interesseret i et eksemplar.

Vi arbejder på højtryk med at få alle datoerne for Casual Days 2020 på plads, og forventer at kunne melde dem ud i slutningen af november.

December nærmer sig med hastige skridt, og i den forbindelse har vi fået nogle henvendelser angående en SMWS julekalender. Vi får 40 stk. hjem, og prisen kender vi ikke helt endnu – men mere om dette så snart vi ved mere.

Tilbage er blot at ønske de heldige en god efterårsferie, og på gensyn umiddelbart efter til en frisk omgang Casual Days. Husk som altid tilmelding til: tko@smws.dk.

Med venlig hilsen
Thomas Korsgaard

THE FOUNDER'S TALE: A GOOD IDEA AND A GLASS OF MALT

Our founder Pip Hills has written a book about the Society's origins and how it grew to become the world's leading whisky club. Essential reading for all members, understand how our club was founded and the ethos that fuelled its growth – an ethos that is still at the heart of everything we do.

Anmeldelse af bogen, af SMWS Ambassadør Tonny Nielsen Denmark:

Jeg købte bogen på min nylige tur til Skotland hvor jeg besøgte The Vaults og da jeg først åbnede den, slap jeg den ikke før sidste side var vendt.

Bogen er fuld af små uafhængige anekdoter og det føles nærmest som om man sidder på pubben og hører historierne fortalt af Pip. Sproget er flydende og Pip er en fremragende fortæller, der ofte springer til noget helt andet, for så at vende tilbage til den oprindelige historie, det giver et helt naturligt præg og autencitet til historierne

I bogen følger vi Pip i tiden lige før SMWS grundlægges hvor vi får en grundig indsigt i tankerne og baggrunden for hvorfor "syndikatet" blev grundlagt. Der fortælles meget om de første år og hvordan man kæmpede med branchen om at få lov at købe fade og bogen slutter omkring perioden hvor Pip forlader SMWS. Indimellem dette, møder man et underholdende persongalleri af Pip's venner samt legendariske SMWS ansatte og vi følger Pip på en tur til Vanuatu i stillehavet og får et indgående kendskab til Pip's store kærlighed for en Lagonda sportsvogn, Dieselmotorer, sejlbåde og ikke mindst Skotland.

Det er drøn underholdende læsning og jeg havde en tåre i øjet flere gange undervejs og det var ikke fordi det var sørgeligt.

Bogen kan købes på de kommende Casual Days.

An elegant and supple aroma of white port, stone fruits, pear skins, orange travel sweets, candy floss and a warm barley steep. There's also grape must, lychee, horse box, white chocolate dipped marzipan, almond puree and sultanas soaked in mead. With dilution the aroma opens onto cough syrup, hand lotion, sun cream, olive oil cake, malt bins, lemon peel, sunflower seeds, brown bread and warm grist. The palate begins with tinned peaches, ripe pears, green apple, sweet wort, aged grappa, cider brandy, raisins stewed in young Calvados, chopped chives and clover. Water reveals cocoa nibs, shea butter, putty, sweet wines, waxed canvas, cooking oils, flints, tart gooseberry and graphite oil.

A buttery rich scone studded with succulent pieces of fruit fresh out of the oven with a dollop of strawberry jam served with a steaming cup of Earl Grey tea – seventh heaven! Smooth, subtle and serene on the palate but at the same time tingling the taste buds in waves as if the strawberry jam had been infused by a little chilli to create a gorgeous sweet and spicy concoction. Careful when adding water but after a drop or two we felt like we had received a scented love letter, which we opened and the fragrant short message carried a hint of innuendo – sweet dreams.

Plenty going on from the word go - candlewax, balsamic vinegar, honeycomb, figs, and plums made this a real nosing dram neat. On the palate rum soaked cherries, salted dark bitter chocolate next to sweet barbequed ribs and raspberry plum jam and to spice things up a little - Indonesian long pepper. When we added water teriyaki sauce appeared and then creamy mushroom gravy made with plenty of Marsala wine. To taste now honey-caramelised pears and long pepper and vanilla bean shortbread cookies. After thirteen years in an ex-bourbon hogshead we transferred this Highly polished on the nose. Bags of fresh varnish, putty, lemon air freshener, bubblegum, bouquet garni, turmeric, lapsang souchong, vanilla cheesecake, fruity red chilli and chopped mint. Water eases things into softer territories. Lots of salted flatbread drenched in olive oil, earthy hummus, fresh paint, curry leaf and hint of tutti fruttu lushness. To taste it's all on sweetened hessian, dried lavender, hot BBQ sauce, tabasco spiced popcorn, buttermints, spiced liquorice, herbal chewing gum and smashed Oreo cookies. A big, rollocking beast of a whisky. Add water and you get cherry lipstick, smouldering pine cones, battenberg cake, herb-infused oils, face cream and wild sorrel. A mushroomy earthiness pokes it's way out between the spicy oak and pithy citrus peels.

This one noses beyond its years with an initial wealth of figs, shoe polish, old school cream sherry, new leather shoes, plum wine, five spice, wine cellar must, cognac spilled on old furniture and coconut cream. Water brings out more tertiary complexities such as strawberry wine, paper ash, dry earth, sawdust, old toolbox, metal polish, blueberry cheesecake, black forest gateaux and a creamy pint of stout. The mouth opens on bourbon biscuits, grape must, liquorice, milk chocolate, black tea, wasabi dusted biltong, pencil shavings in apple juice and blood orange. With water there's pineapple upsidedown cake, caramelised demerara sugar, poached peaches, apricots and hints of fruity red chilli and hot paprika.

The skies darkened as clouds of black cherries and grapes loomed over a hot bodega warehouse. Aromas of grape must and oxidised apples and pears merged with tart hazelnuts, almonds and smouldering twigs. As a sherry butt moved in front of the sun we found ourselves in the shadows amidst dark fruits, cinnamon and nutmeg whilst chocolate covered brazil nuts tumbled onto the dusty earth. As water dripped into the glass flavours of dates, prunes and salted caramel became bound together with thick tar. Then the light oily character of fine riesling wine rippled over porcini mushrooms as cocoa nibs and coconut joined hazelnut praline and liquorice on the silky finish. After spending 15 years in an ex-oloroso butt this was transferred to a 1st fill pedro ximenez butt for the remainder of its maturation.

A big and bold dram that opens straight away on new leather shoes, heather honey and coal tar soap. Notes of mint julep, turmeric, gooseberry jelly, kiwi, air freshener, pine resin and newly laundered linens. Quite invigorating! Water sweetened things with notes of bramble wine, buttermints, tablet and mead. Also madeira cake and coconut creme brulee. The palate opens with lemon cheesecake, rhubarb crumble, digestive biscuit and aniseed balls. Then liquorice, red currants and herbal toothpaste. Water brings out notes of scones with strawberry jam and whipped cream, black pepper and a scatter of dried herbs. The first comments nosing neat were 'complex' and 'balanced'. Aromas of sweet wine, sweet tobacco, oranges, Turkish delight and the dream of every whisky lover came to mind – walking down the aisle of a dunnage warehouse removing the bung and hessian sack of a cask and smelling inside. We did not stop there and took the valinch and tried a sample –sheer luxury! Words don't do it justice; creamy chocolatey fruits of the forest fudge, hot buttered crumpets and add to that a little of the cask char – heaven! We added a teardrop of water and balsamic strawberries next to a little sweet spice appeared and to taste, sarsaparilla tiramisu with caramel sauce.

Rich and opulent aromas of blood oranges and mead surrounded bundles of sweet pencil shavings and ripe banana to provide a cozy, snug welcome. Wafts of fermenting apples suggested heady spirits of calvados, armagnac and spicy Jamaican rum whilst the light oils of aged Riesling brought great depth of texture. The palate was dark and treacly with prune juice and sticky toffee pudding before baked apple crumble arrived with plenty of aged wood. With water, a burst of candied fruits, pecan nuts and spice embraced our senses. Then, as we closed our eyes, we found perfect contentment amongst maple syrup, marmalade and vanilla sponge cake served with fine Tokaji dessert wine. After spending 32 years in an ex-bourbon hogshead this was transferred to a new oak hogshead for the remainder of its maturation.

A pure and classical example of this legendary make. Immediate notes of hot coals, damp beach bonfire, heather ale, lemon scented yeast, old leather shoes and light, medicinal peat. Further aromas of aspirin, white flowers and peated melons. A little water reveals confit duck, ash rolled goats cheese, dried rosemary, moss, wet beach pebbles and diluted calpol. The mouth displays and unexpected sweetness alongside burning heather brooms, peat smoked meats, smoked grist, distant kippers, gauze, olive oil and chalk. Reduction teases out notes of raw sheep wool, engine grease, various waxes, minerals and peppery hessian character in the aftertaste.

Waves crashed on a sandy beach as driftwood and seashells mingled on the shore. The smell of coal smoke and engine grease carried on the breeze from a nearby tug boat as it pulled into harbour. As we approached we could almost taste oily mackerel, fresh oysters and sweet salmon smoked with honey. Savoury tones of back olive tapenade and mussels in brine, balanced with a squeeze of lemon juice and the fragrant syrup of Tojaki dessert wine. A waft of peat smoke delivered a characteristically medicinal weight before the finish turned to ash with a lasting salty dryness.

The nose gives a warm embrace like an old acquaintance. There are blood orange madeleines covered with desiccated coconut and freshly cut figs on the side. Then a fizzy quality reminiscent of citrus sherbet and Love Heart fruit sweets, with the depth of cherry liqueur and chocolate bitters. One panellist was reminded of fine antiques and silverware (Brasso, beeswax). The taste brings rich vanilla pods, Madeira cake, Jamaica ginger cake spread with marmalade. The antique furniture theme continues with hazelnut oil, chocolatey tobacco and nutmeg. Water see us taking a walk in Edinburgh's Botanic Gardens. A farmhouse table offers banana bread, satsumas, rice pudding with strawberry jam and lime marmalade on buttered toast. There is also a waxy note as fragrant candles flicker. The taste is now refreshing, with peach and apricot yogurt, watermelon and honey, tropical diluting juice and a mouthful of lemon sponge cake. Burns himself might have called it a 'right gude-willie waught' – or a hearty drink taken in goodwill.

A man in a dark suit and white shirt is holding a large, clear glass bottle of whisky. The bottle is partially filled with a golden liquid. In the foreground, on a dark wooden table, there is a glass filled with whisky and several ice cubes. The lighting is warm and focused on the bottle and glass, creating a sophisticated atmosphere. The background is dark and out of focus, showing more of the man's suit and a hint of a cigar.
