KÆRE MEDLEM

Det er blevet tid til den sidste omgang, inden sol, sommer og ferie sætter ind over Danmark. Det er med andre ord blevet tid til juni måneds Casual Days.

Vi har i den anledning samlet sammen til et lille sommer tema, så du vil sikkert bemærke at samtlige nye aftapninger er lagret på forskellige måder, men med fokus på sherryindflydelse i større eller mindre grad.

Har du ikke allerede sikret dig en plads på dit favorit sted, så kan du booke en billet på smws.dk under smagninger. Vi håber på at se dig et sted derude i sommerlandet.

Inden vi starter på runden, har du også mulighed for at deltage i et særligt Fars dags arrangement i enten Odder eller København. Vi har parret noget lækkert mad med ditto whisky, og så er scenen sat til ypperlig forkælelse. Du finder begge events samme sted som billetterne til casual days.

Søndag den 31. maj kl. 14.00, sættes billetterne til Gathering smagningerne til salg. I år vil der være en "New Wave" smagning flere steder i landet, og så vil der være en del events i hovedstaden. Du finder hele programmet til The Gathering på smws.dk.

Med disse ord vil jeg ønske dig god fornøjelse med læsningen, på gensyn – og ellers ønske dig en rigtig god sommer.

Med venlig hilsen,

Thomas Korsgaard

CASK	Ex-Bourbon / 2nd Fill Oloroso Hogshead
DATE DISTILLED	16-October-2014
AGE	10 years
STRENGTH	61,0%
REGION	Speyside
OUTTURN DK	30 bottles

Initial nosing revealed a highly leathery and nicely dense profile, with underlying soft dark fruits balanced by gentle earthy and tobacco notes. Water brought out elements of bitter orange marmalade, liquorice, cocktail bitters and cedar wood, and a lovely whiff of Iberico ham! The palate was a gorgeous, rich combination of herbal and dark fruit notes: fruit loaf, brown bread spread with treacle, bitter herbal liqueurs, and dandelion and burdock cordial. Reduction enhanced and thickened the texture while adding impressions of waxes, cedar wood and humidors full of unlit cigars. This was matured in an ex-bourbon hogshead for seven years before being transferred to a second fill oloroso hogshead.

Imagine nosing an old library book, surrounded by the unique airborne flora from deep within the archives. Ink, leather, waxed twine, unsmoked bacon butties and strong builder's tea mingled too. The palate was a handful of raisins, a lick of a calligraphy ink stick, red grapes dipped in warm treacle and burnt ciabatta toast. Water stuffed toffee and set honey into a brandy snap, topped with chantilly cream, on the nose while the palate featured a splash of red ale, apple sauce and pine nuts.

Dates and figs, earthiness, sultanas and plummy dark fruits. The Panel agreed we were immediately in classical sherry-profile territory with this one. We also noted a subtle waxiness and lovely aromas of a leather tobacco pouch and crystallised honey. Water made it earthier, deeper, slightly meatier and added a note of camphor. The palate was big and bold, full of plums, star anise, old armagnac, Iberico ham and umami notes of cornichon and soy sauce. Reduction brought out impressions of dark ruby ales, beef stroganoff, aged pinot noir and dark fruit chutneys. At nine years of age, we combined two ex-bourbon hogsheads from the same distillery into this cask for further maturation and marrying.

SIP SHERRY IN A CIGAR SMOKEASY

We combined two seven-year-old ex-bourbon hogsheads from the same distillery into this cask for further maturation and marrying. The result is fascinating – the nose had candied orange peel, marzipan, ginger and leather, but also fragrant wood, putty and church incense smoke. We found smoked ham on the palate, but mainly the rich sweetness of cinder toffee, dark sherry, raisins, dates, chocolate and plum pie. On the reduced nose, treacle, date molasses and dandelion and burdock all competed with walking through a cigar smokeasy. The palate now had sherry, stout and barbecue-sauce sweetness, before a finish of camphor mingled with burning charcoal.

CASK	Ex-Bourbon / 1. Fill PX-Seasoned Barrique

OUTTURN DK	30 bottles

The nose's initial fruitiness (Amarena cherries, apricot jam, red grapes) was slowly replaced by the more robust characteristics of black olives, caña de lomo, pumpnickel, haystacks and tarry boat timbers. The palate's mighty Gulliver of oak, molasses, cigar butts and leather was barely restrained by Lilliputian strings of honey, strawberry, cherry and coconut. The reduced nose had us wearing new leather sporrans in a well-seasoned, wood-panelled Seville tapas bar, while the palate's tarte tatin and dulce de leche achieved satisfying balance with beef jerky, fly cemeteries, witbier and chilli. Twelve years in an ex-bourbon hogshead preceded further maturation in this first-fill, PX-seasoned barrique.

We noted a confectionery sweetness at first reminding us of foamy bananas, cherry lips and sugar-coated jellies as found in the classic British assortment called dolly mixtures. On the palate, we had a fruity smack of kiwi, guava and peaches (possibly in a bubble tea) served with a raspberry-topped rum baba. With the addition of water, we imagined fluffy watermelon-flavoured candy floss and a glass of prosecco, while the taste, elegant and smooth, delivered tropical cream cake made with passion fruit curd and coconut buttercream. Following 11 years in an ex-bourbon barrel, we transferred this whisky into a second fill STR PX-seasoned barrique.

CASK	Ex-Bourbon / 1. Fill American Oak Oloroso Hogshead

OUTTURN DK	30 bottles

The Panel awoke on an old Scottish island ferry, with coal soot cascading over salted raisin purée, toffee sauce and lapsang souchong tea. The palate was nutty and coastal, like dipping fried seaweed in olive oil and balsamic glaze, with sweet notes of marshmallow and ginger snaps to follow. Water introduced clove, honey, orange peel and charred lavender to the nose. The finish took us back to the bridge of the ferry, with a coastal salinity on the palate being accented by wintergreen mint and creosote. After nine years in an ex-bourbon hogshead, we transferred this to a first fill American oak oloroso hogshead for the remainder of its maturation.

We found this a very foody dram on the neat nose, giving us aromas of grilled gammon steak and scallops with smoked streaky bacon rashers and black pudding. It remained so on the palate as we added roast pork and apple sauce, plums wrapped in bacon, and honey-roasted carrots and parsnips. Following reduction we were transported on an old-fashioned schooner as it sailed into the sunset, enjoying chargrilled oysters New Orleans-style topped with garlic butter, creole sauce and parmesan. At eight years of age, we combined two ex-bourbon hogsheads from the same distillery into this cask for further maturation and marrying.
