KÆRE MEDLEM

SMWS Festivalen 2019 blev afholdt i Vejle fra den 31. januar til 2. februar, og herfra skal lyde en stor tak til alle dem der deltog, og bidrog med god stemning. Vi havde denne gang besøg af Richard fra Unfiltered der er i gang med at skrive en artikel om Festivalen, så hold øje med den i det kommende nummer. Næste års Festival bliver fra den 30. januar til og med den 1. februar 2020, og faktisk er billetterne allerede sat til salg på smws.dk. Vi krydser fingre for at SMWS Festival 2020 bliver lige så mindeværdig.

Umiddelbart inden Festivalen gik i gang, åbnede vi dørene for en medlems butik her i Torvehallerne i Vejle. Den har åben hver dag fra kl. 09.00 til kl. 15.00, dog til kl. 17.00 om onsdagen, så skulle du have tid, lyst og mulighed for at kigge forbi, er vi altid klar til en snak om god whisky. Min plan er at få opdateret smws.dk hver uge for udvidede åbningstider. Ofte er vi ude om aftenen til smagninger, men de dage hvor vi har mulighed for at holde længere åbent gør vi naturligvis det.

Inden vi når dertil, kan jeg afsløre at vi har flere spændende projekter i støbeskeen for alle medlemmerne. Jeg kan desværre ikke fortælle så meget endnu, men en ting er sikkert – Det bliver et virkeligt spændende år! Og der skal jo også være noget at glæde sig til.

I hånden sidder du med det nyeste Outturn for marts måned. Vi er naturligvis til stede på whiskymessen den 2. marts i Kolding, og de der kigger forbi vores stand har mulighed for at smage marts Outturnet der. Der kommer en ekstra flaske, som vi ikke kan afsløre endnu, da det er en del af det globale HERO program, og flasken bliver derfor først afsløret på whiskymessen, og sættes til salg sammen med resten af Outturnet mandag den 4. marts kl. 13.00.

Vi er tilbage med de traditionelle Casual Days sammen med april Outturnet, hvor vi starter i København den 30. marts og slutter den 13. april i Aalborg.

På snarligt gensyn

The panel found the nose to be immediately liqueurish in texture. Notes of mandarin oil, runny honey, flambeed banana and aged calvados. Thyme infused pears, treacle sponge, blood orange and ripe vine tomatoes in a warm greenhouse. With water the nose opened up beautifully. Butterscotch, farmyard, greengage jam, hessian and toasted mustard seed all emerged. The palate was wonderfully juicy and oily in texture. We found notes of brown sugar and cinnamon bread, pecan pie, hot cross buns and cocktail bitters. A little reduction brought creamy vanilla fudge, black forrest gateaux and a gamey note of roast duck. After 10 years in an ex-bourbon hogshead this was transferred to a 1st fill charred red wine barrique.

The aroma neat was “just like a bacon butty”, a simple sandwich with cooked bacon in-between bread spread with butter and seasoned with ketchup. We added to that breakfast delicacy waffles with roasted rhubarb compote and caramelised onion relish. The taste was an explosion of sweet peat smoke and in our sandwich now was honey candied bacon using plenty of honey, brown sugar, cider vinegar and cayenne pepper. With water, we opened a bag of smoky bacon crisps whilst starting a barbeque on the beach and on the palate now, a little drier, less sweet with a smoky flinty character like a mouth-watering Pouilly-Fume wine.

A sweet, malty cereal note, tinned peaches in fruit juice and a moist lemon and coconut cake drizzled with warm lemon syrup made this a very moreish experience on the nose neat. On the palate, creamy warm melted white chocolate mixed with dark chocolate sauce over sweet raspberries - an absolute delight. When adding some water we got aromas of citrus five-fruit blended juice and strawberry sauce with caramelised sugar and pink peppercorns. We finished by receiving a strawberry chocolate kiss (a light fluffy mallow covered in chocolate on a waffle base) – one more please!

The aromas portrayed the warm softness of a fluffy pillow filled with marshmallows and sponge cake as we slipped into a dream world of squashy fudge and butterscotch. The antique wood of a bedframe came with a thick layer of wax polish and linseed oil as complex herbal notes incorporated rosemary, basil and thyme. Gentle fruit poured from freshly squeezed apple juice and oranges growing on a tree, beckoning a palate with the velvety texture of vanilla milkshake. Dried apricots and figs smoothly navigated towards apple pie and custard, whilst cinnamon butter melted on warm crumpets. Seasoned wood returned to frame the finish, joined by layers of hazelnuts and chocolate.

Immediately inviting, the nose promised to treat us well. Vanilla studded whipped cream, jammy figs, chalky marshmallows and fragrant potpourri. One imagined ripe mangos nestled in a pile of new tennis balls! On the palate, a luxurious velvety texture greeted us, moving to deep notes of brown sugary coffee cups and strawberry sauce over clotted cream ice cream. A little drop of aqua emphasised the fruity notes in the form of blood orange sorbet, custard creams and maybe lavender shortbread. There was a refined “polished antique” note in there too. Very gentle in the mouth, with the chalky sweetness of Edinburgh rock, some orange blossom finishing on an oatly gingery slice of parkin cake.

MORELLO CHERRY DELIGHT

The indulgent thick, sweet, fruity aroma of hot Morello cherries soaked in Kirsch over a gooey moist banana-marzipan loaf cake made us want to dive straight in and taste it. Mouth-coating! Mouth-filling! A good balance between the sweet fruity liqueur-like flavours combined with the spiciness and bitterness of a black tea with cloves, ginger and cardamom. With a drop of water an even sweeter, but not cloying, scent of sugar dipped marshmallows and honey-fried figs appeared. A prune juice cake with almonds and chocolate chips on the palate and a slightly dry herbal finish rounded it off perfectly.

A close-up, low-angle shot of a person's hands pouring whisky from a clear glass decanter into a lowball glass filled with ice cubes. The scene is dimly lit, with warm, golden light highlighting the whisky and the person's hands. The person is wearing a dark sweater over a white collared shirt. The background is dark and out of focus, showing a wooden table and a leather bag.
