Tak for en forrygende fest! Sikken en weekend og sikken en opbakning. Det var lige hvad vi alle trængte til - at kunne feste og være sociale igen. Ligeledes endnu tak herfra til alle de frivillige der bar os alle sammen gennem weekenden, hvis nogen så lidt trætte ud lørdag aften, så er det helt forståeligt.

Nu vender vi blikket mod Festivalen 2022 der allerede er ved at tage form. Meget mere information om det i næste Outturn. Første vigtige dato bliver mandag den 9. august – der sættes festivalbilletterne til salg kl. 19.00.

Inden vi når så langt, har du mulighed for at nyde juli Outturnet i fred og ro. Køb en lille sommerpakke med de 9 dramme fra juli Outturnet og tag den med i sommerhuset, på terrassen eller hvor sommeren måtte bringe dig hen. Pakken er til salg nu under smagninger på smws.dk. Flaskerne sættes til salg lørdag den 3. juli kl. 15.00.

Efter sommerferien vender Casual Days tilbage. Det bliver med et spritnyt august Outturn, og billetterne til de respektive steder finder du ligeledes nu under smagninger på smws.dk. Du kan medbringe en gæst såfremt du ønsker det, køb da blot en ekstra billet til vedkommende.

Butikken i Vejle holder lukket i uge 29 og i uge 31.

Med ønsket om en dejlig sommer - og på gensyn i august.

Med venlig hilsen
Thomas Korsgaard

Square glass jars of strawberry bonbons and pear drops sat on a dusty old shelf with cream soda, hard toffees and raisin biscuits. Then raspberry ripple ice cream and sticky treacle arrived with intense cinnamon candies and old-school liquorice with a woody dryness that hinted at cereals and oak. With water, we emerged with paper bags bursting with rhubarb and custard sweets, strawberry laces and toffee apples. A sweet mix of Christmas spices flowed over black cherries and herbs to suggest thick cough syrup from a spoon. An orange sherbet fizz now danced on the tongue with cloves, mint and dark chocolate to finish.

The nose showed an initial creamy spice quality. Things like warm gingerbread, heather honey, cloves and orange oils were all noted by the Panel. Then winter spices, dark fruit chutneys and pomegranate molasses. Deep, luxurious and inviting. With water it evolved towards sweet banana bread, hot cross buns, fruit cordials and golden sultanas studded in a sticky malt loaf. The neat palate was immensely syrupy and mature for the age. Lots of dark fruit teas, plums stewed in old calvados and orange liqueur. Banana baked with brown sugar. Reduction brought date molasses, treacle on soda bread, flower honey, rose water and liquorice. Matured in a bourbon hogshead for five years before being transferred to a first fill Spanish oak PX hogshead.

This was dark, mysterious and outright scary – banana mummified in a sarcophagus wrapped in linen with the ritual of embalming papyrus with figs, dates and cloves as grave goods. Very smooth, very sweet and very spicy maybe like a Nocino de Noix; a fortified wine with green unripe walnuts picked before the 24th of June, known as St. John the Baptist feast day, also known as the celebration of Midsummer night. Shakespeare in his play let Bottom instruct the actors “eat no onions, not garlic, for we are to utter sweet breath”. In 2018 we combined selected oloroso butts before returning the single malt to a variety of different casks to develop further. This is one of those casks.

Mixed dried fruits, cinder toffee, butterscotch sauce and sticky toffee pudding next to tropical banana plantations and toasted oak made this a fascinating experience on the nose. Very sweet and very woody (in a good way!) on the palate, rum and raisin, plum & lavender jam as well as candied dark cherries while in the finish an oily piney spicy punch. Diluted the scent of fresh eucalyptus was soon followed by spicy naan bread, ginger cake and dates, while to taste sweet and herbal with the chewy texture of beef jerky. After five years in an ex-oloroso butt, we transferred this whisky into a second fill toasted butt.

A brusque and lively youngster, the nose bristled with white pepper, toasted cereals, canvas, pollens and warm greenhouses. Lots of crushed green leaves, rapeseed oil, water crackers and leavened bread. Water brought out touches of miso, butterbean hummus, grassy olive oil, starched linens and bouquet garni of dried herbs. The neat palate displayed the richness of buttered oatcakes, digestive biscuits, flower honey, cut grass, yellow wildflowers and sharp young calvados. With reduction we got green, cider apple acidity along with more pollens, honey and nectars, then mineral oils, cereals and sweet barley extract.

The nose opened slowly to juicy fruits (raspberry, peach, nectarine, lemon puffs), cola cubes, vanilla and blanched almonds, with teasing hints of toasted oak and mustard powder. The satisfyingly complex palate combined vibrant cherry and raspberry with vanilla custard slice; holding it in the mouth brought out tobacco, chewed pencil ends and Big Red chewing gum. The reduced nose developed apricot yoghurt and dried banana flakes, buttery cinnamon toast, shaved wood, basketry and fag packets. On the palate, the cherry, raspberry and lemon tartness was balanced nicely by honey, Blancmange and golden meringue sweetness; hot cross bun spices warmed the finish.

After dinner we had a short stroll through the nearby pine grove before we returned to our luxurious accommodation. As we opened the door to our suite, we found a bunch of roses in a vase the bed turned down and a chocolate lying on the soft fluffy pillow. We then ordered champagne, popped the cork, filled the flutes and enjoyed it with the chocolate - a caramel flavoured praline and caramelised hazelnut. Water added orange peel and cardamon, jelly babies and a honeysuckle sweetness on the nose while to taste; Tiffany blue macarons with orange blossom buttercream.

We nosed clean, tantalising wood smoke and honey, ice-cream in a garden and paella or Sunday roast savouriness. The palate found hickory chip barbecued pork ribs, golden syrup, treacle and chalky sweets; leaving long-lingering impressions of clove, cinnamon, sandalwood and leather. The reduced nose evoked a dinner party for one panellist (paté, melba toast, honey-glazed ham) while another was smoke-puffing his beehive by the sea-shore. The reduced palate oozed sophisticated maturity – ruby port and sweet tingling cigar smoke; smooth and satisfying as the sunset on an unruffled sea. This went into a refill French oak barrique after 21 years in bourbon wood.

We imagined a warm summer's day walking on the beach promenade as we passed a florist just arranging the bouquets outside the shop, while next door someone enjoyed a steaming hot sweet porridge. We sat down at a pub overlooking the sea and had a half pint of a 'wee heavy' – dark brown in colour, a thick foamy head and awash with caramel and a flavourful roasty character as well as the dark sweet fruitiness of plums. After a drop of water, we got served salted brown-butter and maple popcorn, a very moreish snack, while the palate turned silky smooth and chocolatey as we ordered a second beer, this time a porter.
